

ISU Food Science Club News

- ❖ Ten food science club members and Dr. Wilson spent the last weekend in March in Minneapolis. Friday was filled with great tours. First, the group met with Jodi Waters, an ISU alum, at General Mills where they learned about career opportunities at General Mills and toured the main corporate offices building. The next tour took them to Ecolab where they enjoyed lunch, learned more about what Ecolab means to the food industry, and toured the research and development laboratories on site. Finally, the group ended their day at the Target's Food Division which monitors Target's store brands. The trip concluded with visits to Mill City Museum, the Science Museum of Minnesota, and the Mall of America.

- ❖ The IFT Product Development team is a finalist for the national competition!

- ❖ The IFT Regional Meeting will be hosted at Iowa State University this year on April 10th. Events of the day include the IFT Regional business meeting, tours of Iowa State's sensory and pilot plant facilities, and the College Bowl competition. The planning committee is very busy finalizing plans for the meeting!

- ❖ It's time for the Food Science Club VEISHEA Fudge Sales! This year, the club will be making 400 pounds of fudge! If you'd like more information about placing an order, contact Victoria Millen, vmillen@iastate.edu. Also, if the Section is lucky, the students will bring some fudge to sell at the April meeting!

Summer Fun—Judge Food Entries at the Iowa State Fair

When: August 12-22nd with food judging every day of the fair

Why: A few of us tried this last year and had a fun time at the Fair!

What you do: Submit an application to the Food Superintendent with your available times and food preferences (you won't have to judge sauerkraut if can't stand it...).

What happens: Directions, a parking pass, and a ticket for admission will be sent to you with your judging assignments (most likely one or two for the day).

The day of: Show up at the Foods Building, taste some food and confer with the other judges on the panel to choose winners. There is usually a set scorecard already prepared for you to use.

Important Notes: It is important to note that while Section members are highly qualified, many of the other judges have been participating for years. This makes us the “newbies”. Also, the judging is done in front of an audience and introductions are made at the beginning. There is generally a recorder assigned to each judge, so you don't even have to write your own comments. This judging process all runs smoothly, but it is helpful to know what to expect ahead of time!

Interested: If you are interested, let Kate Gilbert know

(kate\_gilbert@grainprocessing.com), sign-up at the April meeting, or wait for more information to come via email! The schedules and food categories are not posted yet for this year's judging, so more information and instructions will come when they are available!

Iowa Section IFT Executive Committee Meeting

February 18, 2009 at the Ox Yoke Inn, Amana Colonies, Iowa at 4:00 pm

Members present: Boylston, Canon, Collier, Gilbert, Kellen, LaGrange, Lopez, McCarty, Olson, Swaim, & Wilson

1. Introductions were made.
2. The secretary's report was presented. Motioned by Wilson and seconded by Collier, the minutes were approved. In addition to the minutes from the November meeting, comments on the IRS and the tax status of the Iowa Section were shared. Gilbert took over the correspondence with the IRS to try to clarify the non-profit status of the section. The latest communication classified the Iowa Section IFT as a 501 c 6 organization although the National IFT files as a 501 c 3 organization. A new 990-EZ form was filed with an explanation letter to the IRS. In the meantime, a W-9 form will be completed for those companies needing the information for the Iowa Suppliers' Night.
3. LaGrange presented the treasurer's report. Balance 02-18-10 = $12,534.70 with $3025.00 of the balance being available for scholarships. The main increase in funds from November was from receiving Iowa Suppliers' Night table registrations. Motioned by Olson and seconded by Wilson, the treasurer's report was approved as written. The need for a receipt book was discussed and it was decided that LaGrange will purchase one before the April meeting.
4. Meeting updates were made by Wilson. The National IFT speaker, Dr. Gravani had to cancel for the February meeting, but is willing to reschedule for next September or November.
5. Swaim reported on the upcoming Suppliers' Night. Currently 11 tables have been registered with 5 or 6 signed up for door prize bingo. The goal is to register 30 tables. To further advertise the event, another round of emails and a National IFT email blast will be sent out along with a postcard reminder. Dr. Beattie will be holding a HACCP seminar before the Suppliers Night as planned. The meeting menu is similar to the previous Cedar Rapids event. The meeting will include door prizes, scholarships, and an ISU Food Science Club update.
6. For Food Science Club News, it was reported by McCarty that our second Iowa Section IFT undergrad representative will be Ginessa Gerlock. Club members are getting ready for the product development competitions, a club trip to Minneapolis, hosting the regional IFTSA meeting and College Bowl competition and making and selling fudge for VEISHEA.
7. The State Science Fair competition will be held in Ames March 26th & 27th. Boylston will let the planning committee know the Iowa Section would be willing to judge projects and award a top junior high and senior high food-related project. The Iowa Section contributes $50 to each winner. The ISU FSHN department has matched $50 for each in the past. A few volunteers from the central Iowa area will be needed for judges. The winners will be invited to attend the April meeting if possible.
8. The new scholarship applications are ready to be handed out at the meeting and distributed through the FSHN department at Iowa State. Randall was absent, but as long as she is willing, will gather scholarship funds.
9. Olson gave a proposal on what could be done with the MFPC funds the section received after the event was dissolved. The funds total ~$3700. There was a lot of discussion, but it was motioned by Wilson and seconded by Olson with the motion carrying to use the money for an additional $500 scholarship (the MFPC Memorial Scholarship). Other ideas to be pursued include a possible "rising star" scholarship for a young student with potential and travel grants for students presenting papers at National IFT meetings. Criteria and specifics would have to be determined for those possibilities.

10. Lopez explained the current executive team roster and where positions will need to be filled for next year. For Chair Elect, Joan Randall will be asked for approval to be nominated. Swaim agreed to be nominated for Treasurer. For Member-At-Large positions, Kelly Belknap, a member from Swank, Stephanie Clark, and Sharon Leas will be approached.

11. Community Initiatives were discussed. It was decided that the food and coat drive was a success. Also, a donation of $100 was made to the Riverbend Food Bank in eastern Iowa.

12. No further business was presented. It was motioned by Gilbert and seconded by Kellen to adjourn the meeting. Motion carried. We adjourned and enjoyed an Amana meal at the Ox Yoke Inn.
