TREND PROFILING

Suzy Badaracco, President

Culinary Tides

Suzy is a toxicologist, chef and registered dietitian. She holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Criminalistics, Associates degree in Culinary Arts and a Masters of Science degree in Human Nutrition.

Suzy has been trained in business intelligence and predictive analysis techniques used by both corporate and government bodies. Using these techniques she has been able to successfully predict and profile food trends in the U.S. from health and ingredient trends to restaurants, consumers, fast food, grocery store and manufacturing trends.

Her goal is to inspire food/ingredient manufacturers to look beyond their front door or their competitor's windows to see what, when, and where the next food trends will emerge, and base their strategy not on what the industry is currently producing, but on what is on the horizon.

IFT accepts and adopts the concept of diversity which views society as a mixture of all backgrounds, each with a unique contribution. IFT seeks to retain and celebrate individual differences and therefore will not discriminate, based on race, color, gender, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, disability, or veteran status.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

Jeff Clawson

Greetings and welcome to another year of OSIFT! Volunteers have been busy this summer planning the upcoming year's activities for the monthly meetings. It looks to be another great year for the section.

Carri Matthieu, Chair Elect, is putting together a wonderful list of speakers and Susan Quesnel is planning out all of the meeting locations, which promise to be good. Some new faces on the Board are Nathan Guzman (Treasurer) and Lindsey Moreland (Member at Large) both from Oregon Spice Company. There are so many dedicated volunteers that drive the section and make events happen.

Our major fundraiser is Suppliers' Night – Dann Barnard heads up the committee that puts this event on. It takes many hours of planning to execute this function in such a successful way – and what a success it has been over past years. Kudos to Dann and his group for their effort in making this happen. We really need to get the word out this year so we can increase the attendance for this event – it's free for all who attend and very informative!

The section has had the opportunity to give back to the community – last year we gave away close to $10,000 to scholarships and charities and helped subsidize student involvement in OSIFT and IFT. We will continue to strive for student involvement in IFT and the section, as they will be our future employees and leaders.

Thank you to all the volunteers and members that make this such a great organization. I look forward to a very successful and fun year.
